

The Home We Made, Pt. II (feat. Dylan Owens)

Crywolf

[Maigan Kennedy]

Don't stand again

Don't stand again

And I thought maybe we could save ourselves

And I thought maybe we could save ourselves[Crywolf]

I hear your footsteps in the hallway

Your presence won't leave this place

This house has worlds inside it's walls

In the back room, on the last night

I heard you crying for life

The smoke was pouring through the halls[Maigan]

And I thought maybe we could save ourselves

This house has worlds inside it's walls

And I thought maybe we could save ourselves

The smoke was pouring through the halls

And I thought maybe we could save ourselves

But they shot us downAnd I thought maybe we could save ourselves

Don't stand again[Crywolf]

They're coming up slow

We're falling quickly

Your hand's in mine, but it's slipping day by day

Love, there is violence in this fall

I hear your whispers fading further

You touch my hand,

You see how all my broken pieces are painted on the walls[Maigan]

And I thought maybe we could save ourselves

This house has worlds inside it's walls

And I thought maybe we could save ourselves

The smoke was pouring through the halls

And I thought maybe we could save ourselves

But they shot us down

They shot us down

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>