

Milk & Honey

Sabrina Starke

In every corner of the city lies an opportunity
It's not always that familiar thing we usually hope to see
We all lose hope and we give up taking chances taking risks What's the worst thing that could happen looking for that gold and bliss. Don't wait to die to get that milk and honey

Stay alive and look around
Stop looking at the sky hoping to find that milk and honey
Cause right before your eyes, right before your eyes
Is where the sugar meets the spice
The grass ain't greener life isn't sweeter on the other side.
Just keep reaching for those higher goals pursue good things in life.
We must rise up from our struggles set those priorities
Find that fire, find that passion. keep it working and believe
Don't wait to die to get that milk and honey
Stay alive and look around
Cause right before your eyes, right before your eyes
Is where the sugar meets the spice Don't wait to die to get that milk and honey
Stay alive and look around. Stop looking at the sky
