

Starting to Believe

Holly Drummond

VERSE 1:

they tell us stories of the ones who fall in love but they were never enough to convince me
they play it out on TV screens and force the word to believe in their contrived little fantasy. but now I know this feeling takes over my soul
and lifts me off the ground
it breathes inside my lungs
and sees through my eyes
much to my surprise

CHORUS:

oh no watch me go
i've fallen for you
i've lost control
i'm starting to believe in love
i know it's silly but when i'm with you it's such a rush i'm starting to believe in love

VERSE 2:

i went for years
without an inch of feeling for any living being who wanted me to feel i found it hard to believe that it could come so easily when i least expected you appeared but now I know this feeling
much to my surprise
