Life in a Loop

Sinew

yellow and red and blue and green my colours of choice they're making them go away calming that noise I draw one for you if you like if you please gimme a dime I'll spend it for pencils and sweets they're with me here my children my love they hid in the cellar as I waited above It's 20 of them and they will never grow old what no one can see oh, so alive within me the screaming ain't over yet they're right after me droppin' their shadows, crows made of steel sirens sound loud they still bewail a hole in the ground a loss nobody can tell

'45 here today a breeze in the streets that's drowning me it's a crazy world but watch me smile do you feel the warmth tonight?
