I Confess

IQ Zero

When I look into the mirror
Just can't believe, what do I see
There's no wakin' from this nightmare
And you're lost in your reality
So you tell me all your secrets
And you tell me that you're innocent
There's somethin' in your eyes I can see
And my face keeps lookin' back at me
You confess
You can't help yourself
This living lie that you can't go on
You're possessed
You can't fool yourself
You're the crime and you can't go on
Another day, another sorrow
No today and no tomorrow
Try and wash away the shame
And you smile in your picture frame
You had a charmed life, but you think from grace
And you're long gone without a trace
You're all alone and wonder why
And you laugh when you wanna cry
You confess
You can't help yourself
This livin' lie that you can't go on
You're possessed
You can't fool yourself
You're the crime and you can't go on
You confess
You can't help yourself
This livin' lie that you can't go on
You're possessed
You can't fool yourself
You're the crime and it can't go on
It can't go on
God never spoke to me about your sin
So livin' in our lies will test the faith
So cut your straight lines on the mirror
And dip your hands in holy water

Try and wash away the shame
'Cuz all you've got is your father's name
You confess
You can't help yourself
This livin' lie that you can't go on
You're possessed
You can't fool yourself
You're the crime and it can't go on
You confess
You can't help yourself
This livin' lie that you can't go on
You're possessed
You can't fool yourself
