

Upon Waking She Found Herself A Cougar

We Shot The Moon

To rise is to fall
At every turn there's another wall
Is it true or a lie?
The more I see the more I hide
And to live for tonight
All these thoughts that I have inside
In a dream there is peace
Swinging gently in front of me
There's a day, there's a way
To find just what I've been looking for
In the sky I see light
There still is time now to get this right
Step in, breathe out
The cougar is weight that has kept me down
To swim is to face
The rising tide that will take my place
There's a day, there's a way
To find just what I've been looking for
In the sky I see light
There still is time now to get this right
It's all that I've been looking for
Love through an open door
It was all that I was looking for
Your love through an open door
There's a day, there's a way
To find just what I've been looking for
In the sky I see light
There still is time now to get this right
There's a day, there's a way
To find just what I've been looking for
In the sky I see light
There still is time now to get this right
It's all that I've been looking for
Love through an open door
It was all that I was looking for
Your love through an open door
