

Moonshield

In Flames

Tried of dull ages, I walk the same ground
Collecting the tragedies still
Hollow ambitions in a hollow mind
Carried my cross to the hill And how I lust for the dance and the fire
Deep of the nectarine sunset to drink
Spill me the wind and its fire
To steal of the colors, I'm the moon shield Shattered hope became my guide
And grief and pain my friends
A brother pact in a blood ink penned
Declare my silent end Naked and dying under worlds of silent stone
Reaching for the moon shield that once upon us shone Naked and dying under worlds of silent stone
Reaching for the moon shield that once upon us shone And how I lust for the dance and the fire
Deep of the nectarine sunset to drink
Spill me the wind, ignite its fire
To steal of the colors
I am, I am, I am
I'm the moon shield
