

A New Age Moving In

D-A-D

Yeah you've hit glass ceiling
Yeah you've hurt you're head

 All these beginnings
 None of them perfect
 But bad seeks good
 Like dark seeks light
 Yesterday was wrong

But today is rightThere's another world to come

 A place we can believe
 Where the clever eats the strong
 Could we change it all
 And could I tell them how I feel
 Or should I wait
 Should I save myself

Or is it already too lateCuz there's a new age moving.....

 There's a new age coming
 There's a new age moving
 A new age moving in
 There's a new clock running
 Gonna let a new storm in
 There's a new age moving in
 A new age moving inThe last highschool dance

 Yeah no more of that
 Cuz you've turned to the future
 Hey you're done with the past
 And if you can't understand
 What's coming from within
 Yeah bottomfeeders

 A new age is moving inA creature taking form
 Yeah it's gonna knock you down
 Now everybody listens
 Both rich and poor
 Could I tell them how I feel
 Or should I wait
 You better save yourself

Or is it already too lateCuz there's a new age moving...In the black water where the dolphins used to roll
 Floating as the last living on earth
 The cities drowned, the trees as black as coal
 It's the same world turned alien

It's a world you recognize in pieces
In a sea of burning flames, in a sea of burning flames
The stink that fouls the air - is yourself
New clock running.....
Gonna let a new storm in...
Cuz there's a new age moving.....
