Broken

Elisa

Hard times flowing
My eyes couldn't see stars shining
My heart couldn't feel
The beauty of the rising sunAnd I'm lost like a bottle
That floats in the sea for ever
Will somebody pick up my hope?
Will somebody try? Will I realize?'Cause it's broken, broken
Something got broken like stolen, stolen
Like if it was stolen and hurting, hurting
I have been hurting and now
Only time will tell, time will healJust pieces of truth
That I chose to keep and
No matter if now they are gone
No matter if I am aloneStill I can get back on my feet and walk on
As I know there was something to learn
I know there will always be more
Worth moving on forThough, it's broken, broken
Something got broken like stolen, stolen
Like if it was stolen and hurting, hurting
I have been hurting and now
Only time will tell'Cause it's broken, broken
Something got broken like stolen, stolen
Like if it was stolen and hurting, hurting
I have been hurting and now
Only time will tellI'd love to be one of those colorful early summer days
When everybody is happy that you came
Everybody smiles back at you
As soon as your eyes cross their eyes
But something has to happen first
I know winter has to come before it blossomsSo it's broken, broken
Something got broken like stolen, stolen
Like if it was stolen and hurting, hurting
I have been hurting and now
Only time will tell'Cause it's broken, broken
Something got broken like stolen, stolen
Like if it was stolen and hurting, hurting
I have been hurting and now
Only time will tell, time will heal

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/