Endlessly

To / Die / For

Life is like a poison in me
Destroyed my innocence and dreams
I've been told life is the gift
Oh, that gift makes me sick!Smiling faces, those happy ones
I feel nothing, I'm totally numb
But in the silence of the night-time with you
I can feel momentary warmthYou are too much to lose
Endlessly I love you
My blood runs still just because of you
You are too much to lose
Endlessly I need you
You're my shine, you're my rainWhen comes the day of my destiny
Without you I won't leave
You're the sun in the middle of the dark
You're the rain in my withered heart
