

The Day Has Come

Cheyenne Kimball

I've been down inside
Waiting around, it really makes you tired
Letting another year passing me by
And time goes slow and I don't know why
So, weak in my head
You hold me back, I wanna fly instead
Don't feel like I'm twelve instead
Baby, you're wrong but I don't care why
Outside a world full of strangers
Some I'd really like to know
I wanna stay
But the sign says, 'Go'
I know the day has come
I have just begun
No, you're never, ever, ever gonna see me try
You're never gonna see me doin' anything but what I like
I know the day has come
We have just begun
No, you're never, ever, ever gonna see me lie
You're never gonna see me doin' anything but what I like
I won't feel the light
Sun, all a rising in the nick of time
I'm not sure when I will love
I'm all alone and I don't why
I wanna raise my voice
I wanna meet the good and bad boys
I want them sweet 'cuz, baby, that's my choice
Maybe, I'm wrong but I don't care why
Outside a world full of answers
Some I'd really like to know
I wanna stay
But the sign says, 'Go'
I know the day has come
I have just begun
No, you're never, ever, ever gonna see me try
You're never gonna see me doin' anything but what I like
I know the day has come
We have just begun
No, you're never, ever, ever gonna see me lie

You're never gonna see me doin' anything but what I like
I wanna make some noise
I wanna raise my voice
This is what I like
I wanna make some noise
I wanna raise my voice
No, the sign says, "Go?"
I know the day has come
I have just begun
I know the day has come
We have just begun
I know the day has come
I know the day has come
I know the day has come
We have just begun
