Lose Control

House Of Heroes

I cast no shadow on the grave, no one knows my name
I ride the winds of seven seas gone before the rain
I am both friend and enemy, an object of disdain
Livin' it up in the down and out
I roll with the foxes and hunt with the hounds
Yeah, I feel it in my bones like a rolling stone
An enemy unknown, I lose control
I feel it in my bones like a rolling stone
You'll never find me on the high ground, I lose control
I draw disaster from the vein like fire in the sky
I am the bandage and the pain, the father of the fires
I stand alone when none remain, a creature of the night
I've got you in but there's no way out
I roll with the foxes and hunt with the hounds
Yeah, I feel it in my bones like a rolling stone
An enemy unknown, I lose control
I feel it in my bones like a rolling stone
You'll never find me on the high ground, I lose control
I am the death that makes your life seem good
I am the pain that brings you close to God
I am the prophet warning of the flood
I am the answer you misunderstood
I am the answer that you misunderstand
I do the evil that an honest man can't
I live in shadows that the enemy casts
I have no future and I have no past
Livin' in the down and out
I'm livin' it up in the down and out
I roll with the foxes and hunt with the hounds
I've got you in but there's no way out
But get on your feet when you hear that sound
Yeah, I feel it in my bones like a rolling stone
An enemy unknown, I lose control
I feel it in my bones like a rolling stone
You'll never find me on the high ground, I lose control
You'll never find me on the high ground, I lose control
You'll never find me on the high ground, I lose control
