

Gone

Santiago Laserna

Walking away
at the end of the day in the shadow you cast a part of the past and you smiling at me i can hardly beleive of the joy that i felt i still feel the breeze and the smell of your hair of the sweetest on the afternoon and i said oh my love

where did you go
you left me all alone

there is nothing here
but beauty sweet tears loneliness since you've been gone i can build you a crown of the reasons you gave but i'm sure they were strong and i know you are brave when you ask me to said on the path that you tried to explain and i know you are right on the darker night when i finally saw there was none to find but it hurts to admit that i missing the sound of you voice

where did you go

loneliness
since you've been gone

and there was anything i could've say and there was anything you could've done like the sounds

time plays these games so nice who else you need who can you trust and i said oh my love (oh my love tell me now) where did you go (where did you go) you left me all alone (you know you left me all alone) there is nothing here (there's nothing here you know) but beauty sweet tears (but beauty sweet tears u know) loneliness (a loneliness since you've been gone)
