

Rattled

Lieutenant

I never set foot back there again
Where once we let the road fall back
Postmarked and unrehearsed
Always out front, hear him bellowing proud
Up that trail, sound drops away all's quiet
The insects work out
Out from inside
From the day of your first breath
You too will stall
Only where is all
I heard her say "Life is so fragile"
Our lungs filled under this desert sun
Press it out, shout
You know I need that big bark back
Our hearts stopped under this desert sun
Press it out, rout the doubt that called
Just let 'em fall back
Never'd seen a rattlesnake wrapped in fear
'Til the day he let the road fall back
Not to return again
Shadowed by the poison words that rent
As I watched the promise slip away
Noon days down
I gather this is all
Put no calendars on the wall
I won't forget "Life is so fragile"
Our lungs filled under this desert sun
Press it out, shout
You know I need that big bark back
Our hearts stopped under this desert sun
Press it out, rout the doubt that called
Just let 'em fall back
Can't battle, can't rattle the who you are
Just can't believe this love
Cause I never knew, never knew it before
Young judge is leaching blood
Cause I'd never had, never had it before
In disbelief
Under this desert sun

Press it out, shout
You know I need that big bark back
Our hearts stopped under this desert sun
Press it out, rout the doubt that called
Just let 'em fall back
