Singing Over Me

Kari Jobe

When I waited so long, when my tears were my song
With my hope nearly gone You held me God
To believe in the face of the dry, weary place
When You felt far away You held me God
Oh, there is freedom in surrender, oh I know it
Your songs have never stopped
You've been singing, always singing over me
Your words are still enough
And You're singing, always singing over me
The chaos in the cause teaching me to see Lord
The beauty in the storm so I believe
When I see through Your eyes through the testing of time
Every cloud silver lined 'cause You're with me
Oh, there is freedom in surrender, oh I know it
Your songs have never stopped
You've been singing, always singing over me
Your words are still enough
And You're singing
Give me faith
Give me strength enough to wait
To stand in faith
And listen for, listen for Your melody
Your songs have never stopped
Your songs have never stopped
Your songs have never stopped
You've been singing, always singing over me
Your words are still enough
And You're singing, always singing over me
Your songs have never stopped
You've been singing, always singing over me
Your words are still enough
And You're singing, always singing over me
Always singing over me, always singing over me
Always singing over me

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/