

Tomorrow Comes Today

12 Stones

Alone I face the sun
The burning has begun
I live to find a way
A never ending faith
My heart is on display
And I long to find my place
A light to shine right through
All of the shadows on my face

[Chorus:]

So shine for me as one
Cast a shadow on the sun
The light to find my way
I hope tomorrow comes today

Another day goes by
Alone I wonder why
Beginnings seem so close
And endings fade away
So difficult for anyone to see
I barely recognize this image of me
I'm trying to hide the scars
All of them blistering on me

[Chorus:]

So shine for me as one
Cast a shadow on the sun
The light to find my way
I hope tomorrow comes today
And I will be the one
A shadow on the sun
A light to find the way
Because tomorrow comes today

And I have the strength to overcome
I have the will to carry on
I'm not scared to face this world on my own
On my own
Alone I face the sun
The burning has begun

A light is shining through
And it brings me back to you

[Chorus:]

So shine for me as one
Cast a shadow on the sun
The light to find my way
I hope tomorrow comes today
And I will be the one
A shadow on the sun

I hope tomorrow comes today
