

One Step (feat. Jay Park)

Hyolyn

When it's just us two, it's so awkward
When our hands are about to touch, we get one step further
It's different from before, a strange feeling
I used to feel so comfortable around you, now I like you I just like everything about you
I like listening to your voice
Even your jokes that aren't funny
When I think of you
My heart won't listen to me You just need to come a little closer
Why are you hesitating so much?
You just need to take one step
One step one step one step
You can try to hide but I see it all
I know your heart
But you pretend to push me away
You just need to take one step
One step one step one step
Sorry for making you wait
Girl I'm sorry
When you're next to me
I get nervous for no reason
I hope you know
How much I care about you
So girl
I'm even more careful
But I'm comin'
for your love tonight I just like everything about you
I like listening to your voice
Even your jokes that aren't funny
When I think of you
My heart won't listen to me
You just need to come a little closer
Why are you hesitating so much?
You just need to take one step
One step one step one step
You can try to hide but I see it all
I know your heart
But you pretend to push me away
You just need to take one step
One step one step one step I think I'm ready for you

Come on over
I won't hesitate any more
I'll show ya
Let's make this night a little sweeter
Closer and closer
Our bodies and our hearts
At some point, we're in love
Now we'll never be apart You just need to come a little closer
Why are you hesitating so much?
You just need to take one step
One step one step one step
You can try to hide but I see it all
I know your heart
But you pretend to push me away
You just need to take one step
One step one step one step
