How Do You Fly This Plane?

Lisa Marie Presley

There should be an answer for all this my friend
All your doubts and questions are so appropriate
Like can you live
Can you feel
Should you stay
I strain, for words I just can't say,
for words I just can't say
If I could write a letter with the perfect thing to say
I'd give a damn good reason,
I'd assure you it's ok
And that you can live
That you can feel
That you can stay
I wouldn't stain for words I just can't say
For words I just can't say
How do you fly this plane
How do you fly this plane

Can it be it will get better and weigh less on your mind
Will you be okay, will you one day find
That you can live
That ou can stay
Words I just can't say
Words I just can't say
If words could make it better,
I'd say them everyday
I'd flush bright lights upon them and neon lights that say
You can live
You will be okay
That you should stay,
I wouldn't strain for words I just can't say
For words I just can't say
You can fly this plane
You can fly this plane

You can fly this plane
