

Teenage Tragedy

Dive

Well he never thought that he could feel this way
And he never knew the pain he'd bring that day
Never telling her he had too much to drink
She got in the car and he just drove away Never thinking of the life that he could lose
All the choices that we make can break us too Too young to say goodbye
Too many hearts left broken
Too young to ever learn or see what life could bring
A mother left alone
With no one to come home to
Another lesson learned from teenage tragedy As the rain was coming down he couldn't see
All the lights went out the sky was filled with grey
As the car slid off the road his life would change
As he screams to god 'you should have taken me' Never thinking of the life that he will lose
All the choices that you make can break us too Too young to say goodbye
Too many hearts left broken
Too young to ever learn or see what life could bring
A mother left alone
With no one to come home to
Another lesson learned from teenage tragedy Too young to say goodbye
Too many hearts left broken
Too young to ever learn or see what life could bring
A mother left alone
With no one to come home to
Another lesson learned from teenage tragedy Too young to say goodbye
Too many hearts left broken
Too young to ever learn or see what life could bring
A mother left alone
With no one to come home to
Another lesson learned from teenage tragedy

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>