

Where There Is Light

VNV Nation

The carousel begins to slow, I'll take my chances
So far removed I'll fail to see the recklessness I've shown
In all my words and deeds
The good in other souls I never fail to see Can you see the light as far as the eyes can see?
From this point above the world
Where mortals dare their destiny
As it radiates, may I witness open-eyed
Let me remain where there is light In want of courage it is as a shield for me
In want of hope it reassures and carries me
As it radiates, may I witness open-eyed
Let me remain where there is light Letting go was never easy
Risking all for what I wanted, never needed
Deliberated whether I should
Serve the cause of greater things
As we moved worlds apart Can you see the light as far as the eyes can see?
Where mortals dare their destiny
As it radiates, may I witness open-eyed
Let me remain where there is light The greatest words would still fail me now
These emotions I cannot describe
I want to be where I don't need to hide myself
And remain there 'til the end of time The Gods play games with mortal hearts
As the carousel goes round
As I looked on I saw the crowds who gathered
Walk away Can you see the light as far as the eyes can see?
Where mortals dare their destiny
As it radiates, may I witness open-eyed
Let me remain where there is light In want of courage it is as a shield for me
In want of hope it reassures and carries me
As it radiates, may I witness open-eyed
Let me remain where there is light
