Fell In Love

Jen Wood

I fell in love with a part of you
I closed my eyes and I jumped right through
I should have recognized there would be more
I closed my eyes and I fell in loveI fell in love with a part of you
I kissed the sunrise into the night
I never started to realize
That you were changing right before my eyesI fell in love with a part of you
I closed my eyes and I jumped right through
I should have recognized there would be more
I closed my eyes and I fell in loveI fell in love with a part of you
I closed my eyes and I jumped right through
