The Game of Triangles

Liz Anderson

Every triangle has three sides it's true
There's the wife's side the husband's and my side too
What's the difference who's to blame everybody suffers the same
Oh the game of triangles is a heart breaking gameI tried to be a good wife and keep a nice home
On my job I had to travel I was always alone
It's because I was so lonely that I asked her for a date
When I found out he was married it was already much too late
Every triangle has three sides it's true
There's the wife's side the husband's and my side too
I hate to break our home up but I just got to be free
But I still love you darling what's to become of me
A woman who steals husbands will end up ruining your life
No woman steals a husband if he's happy with his wife
Every triangle has three sides...
Yes the game of triangles is a heart breaking game
