The Warrior's Path

Steignyr

Everything in its path
it turns gray and sad
The way of their souls is mad as their heart

The nature died by their blood to reborn strong for wars
The wings of oaks spirits help they to find their way

The warrior's path open the door to the glory
to find the eternal reborn in the mountains

Nightmares in their nights Only wars in their days the whispers of the silence remains in their minds

Battles to shine
inside of all flames To kill the dark with the eternal fire

Heroes starts to run at night before the eternal darkness And now they came to fight to open the warrior's path

to find the eternal reborn in the mountains
And now they come to live with no wars with Odin my pride turns in ashes for the eternal way.
