

Ghost

Hayley Reardon

For all I've forgotten I'm sure you'll remember
Brakes moaning like thunder, oh the holes in my sweater
I am not lonely
I just miss the old me
And I know, I know, I know
I walked myself home People get me thinking 'bout people
And I don't want to think about you
Gotta shake your ghost loose Speak my words under water to make sure you hear
'Cause you live underwater on black coffee, burnt fear
And they all say they told me
But nobody told me
I guess you don't know, don't know, don't know
Until you know People get me thinking 'bout people
And I'm just trying not to be like you
Gotta shake your ghost loose I will not be no gracious host
To your crazy, angry ghost
I changed the keys
I feel the beat come back to me People get me thinking 'bout people
And I don't want to think about you
Gotta shake your ghost, would you take your ghost
Gotta shake your ghost, I bet you miss your ghost
Next time you need to go would you take your ghost with you

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>