

All I Ever Think About

Chrisette Michele

Naturally, you and me, we have a bit of jealousy
I might ask, "Why she call?", you might ask, "Who is he?"
But I can never think of letting go
Ain't no other man that could have me No way, no how, no circumstance
If you thought about it, no, think again
Baby, slow your role, you ain't leaving me, no
I ain't letting you go, all I ever think about is you And I guess I never really ever loved no one
All I ever think about is you
From the rising of the moon 'til the setting of the sun
It's all around me and I'm feeling so confused I'm really scared lying here, 'bout to fall
'Cause all I ever think about is
Tryin' to get back, yeah, I wanna get back to you
'Cause all I ever think about is you Naturally we disagree, I'm mad at you, you mad at me
Then I tell you something sweet just to keep you here with me
'Cause you already know what I wanna do
Can't nobody come between me and you No problems, no family, no drama, no friends
If you thought about it, no, think again
Baby, slow your role, you ain't leaving me, no
I ain't letting you go, all I ever think about is you And I guess I never really ever loved no one
From the rising of the moon 'til the setting of the sun
It's all around me and I'm feeling so confused I'm really scared lying here, 'bout to fall
Tryin' to get back, yeah, I wanna get back to you
'Cause all I ever think about is you Oh, I'm not with you, baby, it gets so hard for me to focus
I'll say a prayer so that nothing happens to you
Waiting on your phone call saying
"Baby, won't you come back to me?" Oh, oh And when you get back, I can't wait to hug and kiss you Can't wait to demonstrate just how much I miss you
You take my breath away, don't want to wait and say
All I ever think about is you And I guess I never really ever loved no one
All I ever think about is you
From the rising of the moon /til the setting of the sun
It's all around me and I'm feeling so confused I'm really scared lying here, 'bout to fall
I'm 'bout to fall in love with you
Tryin' to get back, yeah, I wanna get back to you
'Cause all I ever think about is you All I ever think about is you, baby
All I ever think about is you
It's all around me and I'm feeling so confused I'm really scared lying here, 'bout to fall
I don't know what to say
Tryin' to get back, yeah, I wanna get back to you

'Cause all I ever think about is you
