Place to Hide

Lucie Silvas

If you're lonely anytime, you can talk to me
When you have trouble on your mind
I will always be here to shield you from it all
The best way that I can, anything you want from meCall me day, call me night
Call me anytime you need someone to hold you
The tears in your eyes will be gone, they will dry
And if you still find that you can't face the world outside
Let me be your place to hideI could always lie to you, if that's what you need
Tell you life is never cruel and people never leave
But love is not always kind and hearts break all the time
And even if I'm far from youCall me day, call me night
Call me anytime you need someone to hold you
The tears in your eyes will be gone, they will dry
And if you still find that you can't face the world outside
Let me be your place to hideLittle corner of the world is what I give to you
Somewhere you can find some peace and understanding
Life can be so sweetCall me day, call me night
Call me anytime you need someone to hold you
The tears in your eyes will be gone, they will dry
And if you still find that you can't face the world outside
Let me be your place to hide
