Storm & Grace

Lisa Marie Presley

You are the most beautiful man That I've ever known Too much to offer And too much held close to the boneJust step on the breaks there You got what it takes You blow me away Your storm and your grace My heart can't seem to take it Your storm and your graceYou have the most beautiful heart That I've ever known It kills me you can't ever show it And a shell has been grownBut stop moving so fast there Take your foot off the gasYou blow me away Your storm and your grace My heart can't seem to take it Your storm and your graceYou blow me away Your storm and your grace
