

Black Eye, Purple Sky

Therapy?

Scrape the stars from your eyes
Lift yourself up, let's go home
It's a long drawn night that we leave behind
Keep on walking Breathe deeply as you go
It's a well scarred part of the road
But at least we know every pitfall, failure
Secret and saviour I just wanna know
Is it gonna be the same?
I just wanna know
Is it gonna be the same? Friends, we got this one under our belts
So brace yourself for the morning chimes, you don't remember
There's nothing to regret, so keep the comfort you know
And hang on to it always, ever, through sicker or better I just wanna know
Is it gonna be the same?
I just wanna know
Is it gonna be the same? I just wanna know
Is it gonna be the same?
I just wanna know So c'mon, we got a blank day, where do we go?
There's a place I know and it's yours and mine
They got everything and it's easy all the time
This could be our way out of this place Something we'll drink to forever, whenever
We leave here together I just wanna know
Is it gonna be the same?
I just wanna know
Is it gonna be the same? I just wanna know
Is it gonna be the same?
I just wanna know
