One False Move

Reckless Kelly

Is this what it comes down to Hit or miss, its either me or you All you get is one false moveMy friend you're gonna have to choose Sink or swim, it's either win or lose In the end theres only one false moveAt first glance were still in this game Theres a desperate chance that hope may still remain Until we come to see the error of our ways Were just one false move awayIts the cost of our endless needs Idle thoughts and wicked deeds Leave me lost with nothing to believeFoolish pride wouldnt let you leave if you tried If I beg and plead and besides Theres no honor among the thievesAt first glance were still in this game Theres a desperate chance that hope may still remain Until we come to see the error of our ways Were just one false move awayAt first glance were still in this game Theres a desperate chance that hope may still remain Until we come to see the error of our ways Were just one false move away Were just one false move away Were just one false move away
