

Sic of Elephants

Andrew Bird

You were right
There was never reason to worry
Money made your eyesight all blurry
Making lists of pacifists Recalcitrant poses
Can't you see how dangerous
The one you chose is?
Which brings us back to Might makes right
So we learn from Wars of the Roses
Pain was only fear
Kneading your toes Making haste to spite your face
To cut off your noses
Convince yourself and others that these
Fish smell like roses Can't you see how dangerous?
When you're too content to make a fuss
Can't you see how dangerous? Squint your eyes and see
Elephants, sycophants, elephants Squint your ears and hear red-faced rants
Pleated pants
Sycophants
That's what you are Can't you see how dangerous?
When you're too content to make a fuss
