

Catching Snowflakes

Pixie Lott

Though it's over now and i cope somehow
In the cold winds blow
I hear you.

What is now i dream
For a while it was real and i cant conceal that I miss you

But our love was like catching a snowflake
As it reached our hands
It was already gone

Though our case is closed
I keep chasing ghosts
Every time it snows
I see you

And i feel no cold
As you lend me your coat
Through the pale white glow
I feel you

But our love was like catching a snowflake
As it reached our hands
It was already gone
This love was not ours to take
It was fated to break
Though it was beautiful

But i lost you
On the way down
Even though i tried so hard
To be with you
To hold on to you with all my broken heart

But i lost you
On the way down

But our love, was like catching a snowflake
as it reached our hands
it was already gone
this love was not ours to take
it was fated to break
though it was beautiful

catching a snowflake was like catching it was catching a snowflake *

Lyrics submitted by stacey.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>