Teen Suicide

xxxxxxx i have no longterm plans for this body i want to be part of you while i still can xxxxxxx my mouth filled up with blood let me be part of you while i still can

when am i coming to your school you know that i should see you soon before something takes me out of here or before he takes you away again

(i woke up in the library and someone was whispering your name directly into my ear i looked around but i couldn't find them and when i went outside the sun was out but soon the sky turned black and it started to rain; my friends blame ghosts for everything) xxxxxxx i worry far too much and i know that it will ruin us just like it ruined so many things before

cause soon i won't be able to if things keep going on like this i stare at myself in the mirror i make my body bleed sometimes i don't even dream anymore because my dreams are coming true i could die in your red hair
