

Anywhere but Here

Finch

Waking up again, shaking off the strange
They plug into your mind as they're whispering your name
Colors form as you open up your eyes
Anywhere but here, you run to save your life
Into the sun again, I know I couldn't pretend
Into the sun again, stay your place
Future's waiting at the gate now
They tell you more than anyone could say
At the very end of every thing there is a place
Sleep now, forever letting go
Lightning in a bottle, straight into the core
Into the sun again, I know I can't pretend
Into the sun again, stay awake
Future's waiting at the gate now
Burn this mother fucker
Into the sun again, I know I can't pretend
Into the sun again, stay your place
Future's waiting at the gate now
Into the sun again, I know I can't pretend
Into the sun again, stay your place
Future's waiting at the gate now
