Where We Stand

Antischism

once again they stick their "morals" where they don't belong once again we must rise up a fight their sexist cause using their twisted faith as the basis for their woman-hate they call themselves pro life ha. it's time we set the record straight their name is sick mockery of the women who would die thousands every year to the hanger or the knife they call abortion murder but what is their alternative? the same fucking murder they claim to condemn so let's bring out the truth behind their hypocrisy and what lies beneath the surface of their so called morality is the religion they keep trying to force down our throats with all its sexist values and all its gender rolesit makes them sick to see a woman in control of her own life in control of her own body and her reproductive rights but that is freedom something they would not understand so we must raise our voice all those pro-choice and show them were we stand.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/