

The Dream

The Cure

And you're too far away, too far away to touch
And this mother's love inside me hurts too much
Prettily waving, playing on the sand
Dreaming of everything, dancing, dancing in our hands Dancing, dancing
Dancing, dancing
Dancing, dancing
Dancing, dancing Dizzy, dizzy, dizzy, as I speak like a tumbling cat
I watch in fascination like a vampire bat
Don't do, it don't do it, don't do it, don't do it don't give it away
We'll use it up tomorrow if we don't use it today We don't use it today
And we don't use it today
And we don't use it today
But we don't use it today Rest your head, oh just put it outside
All wrapped up in ribbons
The night, the dream, the time, love died
The night, the dream, the time, love, love died We pushed it in our mouths
Pushed it deep inside, all wrapped up in ribbons
The night, the dream, the time, love died
The night, the dream, the time, love, love died

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>