

World Upon Your Shoulders

Silverchair

All the bridges in the world won't save you
If there is no other side to cross to When you're not feeling ugly
The world's not too much Take the world upon your shoulders
Take the world upon your shoulders
And burn, burn, burn, burn, burn
Take the world upon your shoulders Half full glasses
Lost in empty houses When you're not feeling nothing
The world's not too much Take the world upon your shoulders
Take the world upon your shoulders
And burn, burn, burn, burn, burn
Take the world upon your shoulders Violent, big and violent
You're like a thing that's big and violent
A world that's big and violent When you're not feeling nothing
The world's not too much Take the world upon your shoulders
Take the world upon your shoulders
And burn, burn, burn, burn, burn
Take the world upon your shoulders
Take the world upon your shoulders
Take the world upon your shoulders

Songwriters

JOHNS, DANIEL Published by

Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>