

Take Your Time

Pete Rock

Zone out now one two yo this goes out to all coasts
East coast, West coast and all across the nation worldwide
Know what I mean? Relax kick your feet up
Spark one let me show you how it's done, blow lady Sunrise starts the day
Lay back ease your pain
Don't sweat simple things
Take your time do your thing As grains of sand pass from hand to hand
I watch time stand still I'm just one man
That's out for all so all should be for one
Grew up on the drum with the J.B., uh The son, who spun the record that his pop's collected
Went on to create and perfect the unexpected
Funky beat sound watch the family get down
Slide with the right and give cousin a pound Watch the young ones play and think back in the day
When fresh was the style, plus the word to say
It's all love now, let me show you how
To take time out and show you what life's about Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Wo oh, just a matter of time Feel the flow and let it go
Unwind, relax your mind
Stay a while, take your time
Bet you'll find, peace of mind With a douse of soul, I'm back in control
My goal sees the world pass from young to old
Unfold a new tale, see yourself on scale
2000 the year my black people prevail Yo straight up and down I got love for this son
Nine years in the mix and if time permits
I'll continue to make my melody for the tapes
And walk the fine line between love and hate Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Wo oh, just a matter of time Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Wo oh, just a matter of time Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Wo oh, just a matter of time Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time
Take your time, walk the line, just a matter of time

Wo oh, just a matter of time
