Typical

CiM

I guess I gotta crawl before I can walk
I guess I gotta grow before we can talk
And I have the upper hand
I'm good at letting go but I'm getting better
You're never gonna know but you'll get a letter
I hope you understand
I never wanted it to go this far
Never thought it would be so hard
I never thought I would lose myself
But now I'm left with nothing else
'Cause you're so typical
You're so damn difficult
You're so typical
You're so damn difficult
I guess you gotta lose before you can listen
I guess you gotta choose to see what you're missing
I am a better man
I'm good at letting go but I'm getting better
You're never gonna know but you'll get a letter
I hope you understand
I never wanted it to go this far
Never thought it would be so hard
I never thought I would lose myself
But now I'm left with nothing else
'Cause you're so typical
You're so damn difficult
You're so typical
You're so damn difficult
You're predictable, cynical
I see it in your eyes
You're so typical
You're so damn difficult
And I see what this does to you
I'm holding back like I've got something left to prove You're so clich

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/