

Where I Belong

HomeTown

Where do we start, And where do I begin.
Your pushing me out, i'm trying to get back in.
With all of the things we overcome before,
What is it now that you are looking for.
Love is a deep and mysterious road,
and under the sheets you better carry your load.
Together our hearts can make it good again,
But i'm trying my best, you got to let me in.
So wake me up and show me,
we're going to be alright,
You say your feeling lonely,
yeah I feel the same tonight,
So come a little closer,
I need you by my side,
When everything goes wrong,
Your where I belong,
Where I Belong, la la la la la la la,
Where I belong, la la la la la la la.
And I should treat you like a work of art,
I blame myself, now we're coming apart,
But if you love me won't you let me know,
It's getting late and i don't want to go home.
So wake me up and show me,
we're gonna be alright,
You say your feeling lonely,
yeah I feel the same tonight,
So come a little closer,
I need you by my side,
When everything goes wrong,
Your where I belong,
Where I Belong, la la la la la la la,
Where I belong, la la la la la la la,
Where I belong, la la la la la la la,
Where I belong, la la la la la la la.
When everything goes wrong,
your where I belong,
When everything goes wrong,
your where I belong,
So wake me up and show me,

we're gonna alright,
You say your feeling lonely,
yeah I feel the same tonight,
So come a little closer,
I need you by my side,
When everything goes wrong,
Your where I belong,
Where I Belong,
When everything goes wrong,
Your where I belong,
Where I belong, la la la la la la la,
Where I belong, la la la la la la la,
Where I belong, la la la la la la la,
Where I belong la la la la la la la,
Where I belong.
