

Hear My Cries

Berman

hear my cries, and fix my eyes, into Your Word, it must be heard, if You flow in me, then You will set me free, be in my mind, 'cause i've been i've been so blind in myself i have wandered away, seek Your lost and guide them Your way, and let my soul live, and i will praise You i will, let my soul live, and i will praise You again, hear my cries, and make me wise, i'll see it through, to tell them of You, if You flow in me, then we will set them free, be in their minds, 'cause they've been they've been so blind, help me not to wander away, but instead i'll forget my old ways
