

Denial and Pride

Trail of Tears

Can't you see that she is dripping red?
Her mind forlorn, her feelings mislead
As a consequence of all your lies a life nearly ceased
Put force into your words and treat yourself to destruction I felt a wave crashing over me so cold
I tried to escape from your ignorance
I praise your fall Tears of joy run down my face as panic strikes you Uplifted by your desperate stare Never again shall you be allowed to walk around guilty yet proud
I'll make you see the difference, I'll force you to understand
Your time has come
I raise a smile in dark delight
