What Else Can I Do

The Sunstreak

Coming home,
Thinking of the days that i think of all the time i don't know why i had to change, Why i felt like i was right just maybe you'll take me back, and we'll be together

Take the excuses that i made and throw them all away you're about to see me standing up for what i believe in strong, and not wavering at all as perfect as they come cause after all that we've been through,
what else can i do?

coming home, missing everything all the good times and the bad and i don't know if you miss me too, if you'll ever take me back am i crazy? don't hate me for walking back in your life you can break me, you can take me, you can do whatever you like
