Back To The Start

Burn Halo

Down, I?ve been down on myself
I know there's a light, but I just can?t tell
Which way that I should run,
After all that I have done
Which road did I take, to get so far away
From you
You can?t remember my face
The truth, it gets so hard to take and?
You keep giving me chances
I keep breaking your heart
I wish there was a way we could do it all
Over again
Get back to the start
I?ve been looking for a friend
In places I never should have been
I stood there on the edge
You tried to pull me in
I keep dealing with the pain
It seems to never end

You can?t remember my face
The truth it gets so hard to take
You keep giving me chances
I keep breaking your heart
I wish there was a way we could do it all
Over again
Get back to the start
This wasn?t the way it was supposed to be
How can I see you if I can?t see me?
You keep giving me chances
I keep breaking your heart
I wish there was a way we could do it all
Over again
You keep giving me chances
I keep breaking your heart
I wish there was a way we could do it all
Over again
Get back to the start
