

Letting Me Down

Jools Holland & Joss Stone

Mmm Hmm, Ahh
I'm tired,
Cos I aint been sleepin'
been kept up by everyone creeping
I'm done with all of this drama
It's about time I should tell ya you've been letting me down
you've been holding me up
you've been playing around
It's not love You've been letting me down
for some time now
Over, and over again
Gotta get myself out mmmhmm
I walked down the same path
Expecting somethign to change man
You used to make me laugh
Tell me why that had to fade man When you're here, there's no tomorrow
It's too late to give me your sorrow
Life won't wait for you to get your things together
This game, you can't play forever You're letting me down
You've been holding me up
You've been playing around
It's not love You've been letting me down
For some time now
Over, and over again
You've been letting me down
You've been holding me up
Playing around
This ain't love You've been let-ting me down
For some time now
Over, and over again
It's about time I got out
I cant stand it anymore
You'd better leave you keys on the counter
And you'd better close that door right behind you Get out now
Take your coat, take your shoes
Take everything you say and everything you do and get out now, please

I don't want ot be rude, just please just get your things together
Make haste, and get out
Go on play your little games somewhere else
That's right nah
Now keep it moving baby
I'd better change the locks tomorrow
Cos I got, had enough
So over, so over you
