

Ladies of Calico

Daniel Antopolsky

Baby at the breast, why are you cryin'™?
Baby at the breast, so great are your needs
You tickle the breast, your mother, she guides you
Climb on the mountain, so you might see

To you ladies, you sweet lovin'™ ladies
To you ladies, we thank you so
To you ladies, lovely ladies of Calico

The world you have entered with imperfect perfection
Is not always what, we hoped it would be
The mountain before you, embrace it this instant
Fondle the moutain, kiss the sea
Fondle the moutain, kiss the sea

To you ladies, you sweet lovin'™ ladies
To you ladies, we thank you so
To you ladies, lovely ladies of Calico
Pregnant mountains, unity vision
Mother Nature, Mother knows
Two are the mountains, two are the fountains
A wonderful gift from Calico

To you ladies, you sweet lovin'™ ladies
To you ladies, we thank you so
To you ladies, lovely ladies of Calico

Baby, dear baby, you're takin'™ a ride
You're nurtured by life, and you can't hide
But baby, dear baby, you can confide
There's peace and love, warmin'™ your insides, yes there is
There's peace and love, warmin'™ your insides

To you ladies, you sweet lovin'™ ladies
To you ladies, we thank you so
To you ladies, lovely ladies of Calico

Mother, dear Mother, you've given me so much
My heart started feelin'™ with your gentle touch
Thank you Mama for lettin'™ me know

Thank you Mama for helpinâ€™ me grow
Thank you Mama for helpinâ€™ grow

To you ladies, you sweet lovinâ€™ ladies
To you ladies, we thank you so
To you ladies, lovely ladies of Calico
To you ladies, lovely ladies of Calico

Lyrics Submitted by Marie Harel

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>