Sail Away

Jewelia

All the birds in the cage, where did they go?
Are they free in the woods? or are they rotting
On the ground, fallen down, wings trimmed, broken?
Did they try to claim the sky? Have they forgotten?Sail away Sail awayThis foul taste in my mouth is lingering still Scent of rose hiding blood, unborn sister
You sail me away
where the birds can sing my nameSail away
Sail awayIf I now run away will I go far?
Will the walls be the same? Door's left ajarSail me away where the birds can sing my name
Where the birdsSail away
Sail away
