You're The One

Clannad

When the cold wind blows
And the rain keeps tumbling down
And there's no one there
When the morning light shines onYou're the one to lend a hand
You're the one who understands
You're the one to comfort me
The keeper of my heartThe moments we share
Will never ever fade away
All the treasure and gold
Wouldn't make me change anywayYou're the one to lend a hand
You're the one who understands
You're the one to comfort me
The keeper of my heartThis heart of mine
Might change as the seasons run by
Like a small stream
That turns and runs to the sea
