Who Am I

Sylver

Who am I
What am I
I'm lying naked on the floor
I don't believe the mirror anymore
Got to find myself again
I don't know, if letting go
Might be the only way I canIn the darkest corner of my mind
I've been searching, I've been trying to find
The little girl that I left behind
I cannot see, life's blinding me
Underneath my rough and poisoned skin
Lies the inner beauty, free from sin
But I've forgotten how to reach down in
How can I feel, what I am for realWho am I
What am I
I'm lying naked on the floor
I don't believe the mirror anymore
Got to find myself again
I don't know, if letting go
Might be the only way I canLeft alone, I'm lost in space and time
I still wonder how to ease my mind
Expectations of a different kind
I want to be me, tell me how can I be Far away from innocence I start
Try to find the answer, hidden in the stars
Though my soul got covered in many scars
I still hold on, want to know where I belongChorusMaybe after all is said and done
When the shadows and the doubts are gone
I realise it's hard to love someone
If your not standing strong
