

Lovers or Liars

Lauren Aquilina

Trying to put my finger on this feeling
Can't remember what we came here for Everything we try to say has hidden meaning
When you're the kind of tired sleep can't cure
Time moves slow, waiting for this to evolve
When hearts have nothing to hold, they let go
So what the hell are we waiting for? Are we lovers or liars?
Are we burning up to keep this fire alive?
God loves a trier, but there's nothing left to try
Lying to ourselves, lying to each other
Hiding from the truth, lying under covers
Are we lovers or liars? Holding on to reasons I should keep you
When all the things you loved are now my flaws
We took apart our heads while we were sleeping
But will our dreaming be our down, our downfall? Are we lovers or liars?
Are we burning up to keep this fire alive?
God loves a trier, but there's nothing left to try
Lying to ourselves, lying to each other
Hiding from the truth, lying under covers
Are we lovers or liars? Should we lose everything we've got,
Or settle for something that we're not?
And all will be forgiven
If we go back, can we go back? Are we lovers or liars?
Are we burning up to keep this fire alive?
God loves a trier, but there's nothing left to try
Lying to ourselves, lying to each other
Hiding from the truth, lying under covers
Are we lovers or liars? Are we lovers or liars?
