

New Day

Voice Of The Beehive

(By Tracey Bryn, Peter Vettese & Melissa Belland)The night's so big I feel like a shadow waiting in the corner

Nowhere to hide away safe

Somehow light will always find me

And tell me how to brave a darkened silence

Anyday now the clouds will part there will be sunIn the new day I'll find things aren't so bad at all

The day will carry me like water in a fall

The sky is endless and it's just for me to seeI close my eyes in silence, held my stillness

Dark and sweet now

And though things might seem tarnished,

Something will shine for me somehow

And then there's light, remind me there's tomorrow

It could be mine

The clouds part there will be sunIn the new day I'll find things aren't so bad at all

The day will carry me like water in a fall

The sky is endless and it's just for me to see

And it'll be all mine to just reach and grab hold of

Don't need a hand to take me,

Don't need a perfect love and the darkness

Will be just a memoryThe sky, the wind kicks up my adrenaline

Yesterday blue skies turned grey

You know I felt I'd lost my way

Now the sun, and the sky beauty so real

It can't be a lie, lying back, not feeling blue

Stretch out your arms, let the sun shine through.
